Author: Chicago (Ill.). City Council.

Titles:

Council proceedings, [185u]-1866
Proceedings of the Common Council ..., 1866-1876
Proceedings of the City Council ..., 1876-1908
Journal of the proceedings ..., 1908-19—

Place published: Chicago (Ill.)

Note: Title varies: 185u-1866, Council proceedings; 1866-1876, Proceedings of the Common Council; 1876/77-1907/08, Proceedings of the City Council; 1908/09-19uu, Journal of the proceedings of City Council.

Summary description: The published proceedings typically include reports received by the city council from city officials and units of local government, such as the Board of Public Works, as well as meeting minutes of the city council as a whole and sometimes meeting minutes of committees; and some texts of resolutions, letters, and other statements considered or issued by the city council. Sometimes a list of current and former elected and appointed officials is included as well.

Published proceedings began in the 1850s but did not consistently include reports from the same city officials and units of local government each year or include all of the texts to be found in the city's archival proceedings files.

Chicago's government council was called the Common Council in early years, and later, the City Council. The titles of the published proceedings reflected these names. Since the published proceedings did not include every complete text or report by or to the City Council, in 1908 the published title became: The Journal of the Proceedings of City Council of the City of Chicago. Thus the published proceedings serve as a guide to the actions of the City Council but do not provide every detail of its actions and deliberations.

Note about early archival files of the city council:

Archival proceedings files began in 1833 with the founding of Chicago as a town and continued as Chicago was incorporated as a city by the State of Illinois on March 4, 1837.

These files contained more documentation than was published under the title Proceedings or Journal of Proceedings. However, many early files of local government archival records were destroyed by fire in 1854 and by the Great Chicago Fire of 1871.

Surviving archival proceedings files, 1833-1871, not to be confused with the published proceedings, are open to researchers at the Illinois Regional Archives Depository (IRAD) in the library at Northeastern Illinois University, 5500 North Saint Louis Avenue, Chicago, IL. For more information, please consult the Web-site: <http://library.neiu.edu/whereinthelibrary/irad.html>

Microfilm of this material is available at the Illinois State Archives in Springfield and at some other repositories.

Note about recent published proceedings, 1981-present:

The Office of the City Clerk of Chicago makes available online the published proceedings beginning with 1981 to present.

Access to PDF files of the Journals of the Proceedings, 1981-present are available at this Web-site: <https://www.chicityclerk.com/legislation-records/journals-and-reports/journals-proceedings>
