The Warrants shall show upon the face thereof that they are payable in the numerical order of their issuance solely from such taxes when collected and that any Warrant shall be received by any collector of taxes in payment of the tax against which it is issued. The Warrants issued for said purpose shall not be issued in an amount in excess of $100,000. Such taxes so levied are hereby assigned and pledged to the payment of the Warrants; and such taxes, when collected, shall be set apart and held for the payment of the Warrants. The Warrants shall be dated as of the date of delivery thereof and shall also bear the date of registration thereof. The Warrants shall be in fully registered form, shall be of the denomination of $5,000 or authorized integral multiples thereof, and shall be numbered 1 and upwards.

The principal of and interest on the Warrants shall be payable on presentation in lawful money of the United States of America at the principal corporate trust office of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank, Chicago, Illinois, as warrant registrar and paying agent (the "Warrant Registrar"). The Warrants are issued and the rate of interest on the Warrants has been set on the basis that such interest is not exempt from inclusion in gross income for federal income tax purposes under Section 103 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986.

The Warrant Registrar shall not be required to transfer any Warrant after money is available for the payment thereof.

The person in whose name any Warrant shall be registered shall be deemed and regarded as the absolute owner thereof for all purposes, and payment of the principal of or interest on any Warrant shall be made only to or upon the order of the registered owner thereof or his legal representative. All such payments shall be valid and effectual to satisfy and discharge the liability upon such Warrant to the extent of the sum or sums so paid.

No service charge shall be made for any transfer of Warrants, but the City or the Warrant Registrar may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge that may be imposed in connection with any transfer of Warrants.

CHICAGO, May 10, 1989.

To the President and Members of the City Council:

Your Committee on Finance, having had under consideration an ordinance from the Department of Law amending Chapter 26, Section 26-26 of the Municipal Code of the City of Chicago relating to the eligibility of certain persons for municipal contracts, having had the same under advisement, begs leave to report and recommend that Your Honorable Body pass the proposed ordinance transmitted herewith.

This recommendation was concurred in by a viva voce vote of the members of the committee.

The following is said proposed ordinance transmitted with the foregoing committee report:

Be It Ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. Chapter 26, Section 26-26 of the Municipal Code of Chicago is hereby amended by deleting the language bracketed and inserting the language in italics, as follows:

26-26. No person or business entity shall be awarded a contract or sub-contract if that person or business entity: (a) has been convicted of bribery or attempting to bribe a public officer or employee of the City of Chicago, the State of Illinois, or any other public entity in that officer or employee's official capacity; [nor] or (b) has been convicted of agreement or collusion among bidders or prospective bidders in restraint of freedom of competition by agreement to bid a fixed price, or otherwise; or (c) has made an admission of guilt of such conduct described in (a) or (b) above which is a matter of record but has not been prosecuted for such conduct. [Ineligibility under this section shall continue for three years following such conviction or admission.]

For purposes of this section, where it has been determined by a court of law that an official, agent or employee of a business entity has committed any offense under this section on behalf of such an entity and pursuant to the direction or authorization of an officer or director thereof, the business entity shall be chargeable with the conduct.

Ineligibility under this section shall continue for three years following such conviction or admission. The period of ineligibility may be reduced or waived by the Purchasing Agent, upon the written verified application of the ineligible person or business entity, supported by documentation of either or both of the following reasons:

(i) reversal of the conviction or judgment on which the ineligibility is based, unless the conviction or judgment is based on an admission of conduct described in subsections (a) or (b) above; or

(ii) bona fide change in ownership and/or control of the business entity, and mitigating factors sufficient in the judgment of the Purchasing Agent to remove the conditions giving rise to the conduct that led to the ineligibility.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this section to the contrary, a contract or sub-contract may be awarded to a person or business entity when it is determined by the Purchasing Agent to be in the best interest of the City of Chicago, such as, but not limited to contracts for materials or services economically procurable only from a single source. Such determination shall be made in writing and shall specify the reasons for the decision.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall take effect upon its passage and approval.

68-1. General.

Buildings or other structures hereafter erected shall be designed and constructed to support safely the minimum design loads, including dead loads as required in this section, without exceeding the allowable stresses (or specified strengths when appropriate load factors are applied) required in this code for the materials of construction in the structural members and connections.

68-1.1. Resource Document.

The American National Standard Minimum Design Loads for Building and Other Structures ANSI-A58.1-1982 provides resource data for the design of buildings and other structures that are subject to the Chicago Building Code requirements. Resource data include guidelines for general structural integrity, reference information on loads including the determination of wind loading on buildings and other structures, diagrams for balanced and unbalanced snow loading and snow drift configurations, typical influence areas and references to substantiating technical data.

68-1.2. Permit Drawings.

Design live loads and special loading shall be shown on permit drawings along with the structural materials quality criteria.

68-1.3. General Structural Integrity.

Through accident or misuse, structures may suffer local damage, that is, the loss of load resistance in an element or small portion of the structure. The Department of Inspectional Services is concerned that buildings and structural systems shall be able to sustain local damage with the structure as a whole remaining stable and not being damaged to an extent disproportionate to the original local damage.

68-1.4. Additions To Existing Structures.

When an existing building or other structure is enlarged or otherwise altered, all portions thereof affected by such enlargement or alteration shall be strengthened, if necessary, so that all loads will be supported safely without exceeding the allowable stresses (or specified strengths, when appropriate load factors are applied) for the materials of construction in the structural members and connections.

68-1.5. Load Tests.

The Commissioner of the Department of Inspectional Services may require a load test of any construction whenever there is reasonable doubt as to question its safety for the intended occupancy or use.

68-2. Floor Loads.

Design floor loads shall be determined by the provisions of Section 68-2.1 to Section 68-2.14 inclusive.

68-2.1. Dead Loads.

Dead loads comprise the weight of all permanent construction, including walls, floors, roofs, ceilings, stairways and fixed service equipment, plus the net effect of prestressing.

(a) Weight Of Materials And Constructions.

In estimating dead loads for purposes of design, the actual weights of materials and constructions shall be used, provided that in the absence of definite information, values satisfactory to the Commissioner of the Department of Inspectional Services are assumed.

(b) American National Standard.

Minimum Design Loads for Buildings and other structures, A.N.S.I. A58.1 -- 1982, Appendix Tables A1 and A2, may be referenced for information on dead loads.

(c) Weight Of Fixed Service Equipment.

In estimating dead loads for purposes of design, the weight of fixed service equipment, such as plumbing stacks and risers, electrical feeders, and heating, ventilating, and air conditioning systems, shall be included whenever such equipment is supported by structural members.

68-2.2. Live Loads.

Live loads are those produced by the use and occupancy of the building or other structure and do not include environmental loads such as wind load, snow load, rain load, or dead load.

(a) Required Live Loads.

The live loads assumed in the design of buildings and other structures shall be the maximum loads likely to be produced by the intended use or occupancy but shall in no case be less than the minimum uniformly distributed unit loads required by Table 68-2.2, reduced as appropriate in accordance with Section 68-2.14, or the concentrated loads required by Table 68-2.6.

Notes For Table 68-2.2

- Note 1-- The weight of books and shelving shall be computed using an assumed density of 65 lb/ft³ (pounds per cubic foot, sometimes abbreviated pcf) and converted to a uniformly distributed load; this load shall be used if it exceeds 150 lb/ft².*
- Note 2-- For detailed recommendations, see American National Standard for Assembly Seating, Tents, and Air-Supported Structures, A.N.S.I./N.F.P.A. 102-1978.*
- Note 3-- File and computer rooms shall be designed for heavier loads based on anticipated occupancy.*
- Note 4-- American Association of State Highways and Transportation Officials. A.A.S.H.T.O. axle loads should also be considered where appropriate. Refer to 68-2.11 Special Loading.*

68-2.3. Thrusts on Handrails.

Stairway and balcony railing, both exterior and interior, shall be designed to resist a simultaneous vertical and horizontal thrust of 50 lb/ft. (pounds-force per linear foot) applied at the top of the railing. For one- and two-family dwelling units, a thrust of 20 lb/ft. may be used instead of 50 lb/ft.

68-2.4. Thrust on Passenger Vehicle Railings.

Railing, bumpers, walls, hoistway gates, or similar devices used in parking areas to resist impact of moving passenger vehicles shall be designed to resist a lateral load of 300 pounds per lineal foot at least 21 inches above the parking deck but in no case shall the load be less than 2,500 pounds per vehicle.

68-2.5. Provision for Partitions.

In office buildings or similar structures in which subdividing partitions may be erected, rearranged or relocated, the uniform load of such partitions shall be assumed at not less than twenty pounds per square foot of floor area, whether or not partitions are shown on the plans, unless the specified live load exceeds 80 pounds per square foot. For columns, the uniform partition load shall be assumed a dead load.

68-2.6. Concentrated Loads.

Floors and other similar surfaces shall be designed to support safely the uniformly distributed live loads prescribed in 68-2.2 or the concentrated load, in pounds-force, given in Table 68-2.6, whichever produces the greater stresses. Unless otherwise specified, the indicated concentration shall be assumed to be uniformly distributed over an area 2.5 feet square (6.25 square feet) and shall be located so as to produce the maximum stress conditions in the structural members.

Minimum Concentrated Loads.

Location	Load (lb/ft²)
Elevator machine room grating (on area of 4 in²)	300
Finish light floor plate construction (on area of a in²)	200
Garages	*
Office floors	2,000
Scuttles, skylight ribs, and accessible ceilings	200

Location	Load (lbf)
Sidewalks	8,000
Stair treads (on area of 4 in² at center of tread)	300

 Floors in garages or portions of buildings used for the storage of motor vehicles shall be designed for the uniformly distributed live loads of Table 68-2.2 or the following concentrated loads: (1) for passenger cars accommodating not more than nine passengers, 2000 pounds-force acting on an area of 20 square inches; (2) mechanical parking structures without slab or deck, passenger cars only, 1500 lbf per wheel; (3) for trucks or buses, maximum axle load on an area of 20 square inches per wheel.*

68-2.7. Accessible Roof-Supporting Members.

Any single panel point of the lower chord of roof trusses or any point of other primary structural members supporting roofs over manufacturing, commercial storage and warehousing, and commercial garage floors shall be capable of carrying safely a suspended concentrated load of not less than 2000 lbf (pounds-force) in addition to dead load plus environmental loads. For all other occupancies, a load of 200 lbf shall be used instead of 2000 lbf.

68-2.8. Live Loads Not Specified.

For occupancies or uses not designated in 68-2.2, the live load shall be determined in a manner satisfactory to the Commissioner of the Department of Inspectional Services. Note: For additional information on live loads, see Appendix, Tables A3 and A4 of the American National Standard A.N.S.I. A58.1-1982 may be referenced.

68-2.9. Partial Loading.

The full intensity of the appropriately reduced live load applied only to a portion of the length of a structure or member shall be considered if it produces a more unfavorable effect than the same intensity applied over the full length of the structure or member. When the construction is such that the structural elements thereof act together as an elastic frame due to their continuity and the rigidity of the connections, the effect of such partial loading as will produce maximum stress in any member shall be provided for in the design.

68-2.10. Impact Loading.

The live loads specified in 68-2.2 shall be assumed to include adequate allowance for ordinary impact conditions. Provision shall be made in the structural design for uses and loads that involve unusual vibration and impact forces.

(a) Elevators.

All Elevator loads shall be increased by 100% for impact, and the structural supports shall be designed within the limits of deflection prescribed by American National Standard Safety Code for Elevators and Escalators, A.N.S.I./A.S.M.E. A17.1-1981, and American National Standard Practice for the Inspection of Elevators, Escalators, and Moving Walks (Inspector's Manual), A.N.S.I. A17.2-1979.

(b) Machinery.

For the purpose of design, the weight of machinery and moving loads shall be increased as follows to allow for impact: (1) elevator machinery, 100%; (2) light machinery, shaft-or motor-driven, 20%; (3) reciprocating machinery or power-driven units, 50%; (4) hangers for floors or balconies, 33%. All percentages shall be increased if so recommended by the manufacturer.

(c) Craneways.

All craneways except those using only manually powered cranes shall have their design loads increased for impact as follows: (1) a vertical force equal to 25% of the maximum wheel load; (2) a lateral force equal to 20% of the weight of the trolley and lifted load only, applied one-half at the top of each rail; and (3) a longitudinal force of 10% of the maximum wheel loads of the crane applied at the top of the rail.

(d) Exception.

Reductions in these loads may be permitted if substantiating technical data acceptable to the Commissioner of the Department of Inspectional Services is provided.

68-2.11. Special Loading.

Driveways, sidewalks, spaces for storage of loaded or unloaded trucks or buses, and spaces to be occupied by tanks, tracks or other special equipment shall be designed for the actual weight of the superimposed loads.

68-2.12. Posting Of Floor Loads.

(a) In every building or other structure, or part thereof, used for mercantile, industrial or storage purposes, the loads approved by the Commissioner of the Department of Inspectional Services shall be marked on placards of approved design. Such placards shall be supplied and securely affixed by the owner of the building, or his duly authorized agent, in a conspicuous place in each space to which they relate. Application of such placard shall be accompanied by a certification from a registered architect or registered structural engineer that he personally inspected the building and that he computed the safe load in conformity with the provision of this ordinance. Duplicate placards may be issued to replace lost or destroyed placards without such certification upon payment of a fee in accordance with Section 43-33 of this Code, where the Department of Inspectional Services has records of the safe floor load limits of particular buildings.

(b) Exceptions -- Posting of floor loads shall not be required in buildings or portions thereof used exclusively for the production and distribution of electricity, gas or steam.

(c) Spaces in garages and parking facilities designed for the use of passenger automobiles only shall be placards as follows: "This floor to be used for the storage of passenger automobiles only".

68-2.13. Restriction On Loading.

The building owner shall ensure that a live load greater than that for which a floor or roof is approved by the Commissioner of the Department of Inspectional Services shall not be placed, or caused or permitted to be placed, on any floor or roof of a building or other structure.

68-2.14. Reduction In Live Loads.

Permitted reduction in live loads shall comply with the provisions of 68-2.14 (a), (b) and (c).

(a) Permitted Reductions in Floor Construction:

Beams, girders and trusses shall be designed to carry not less than the following percentage of the live floor loads established in Section 68-2.2 or based on the tributary floor area and influence area carried by the members.

1. For live loads of 100 pounds per square foot or less:

	Tributary Area In Square Feet	Influence Area	Percentage Of Live Load
less than	200	400	100
	300	600	86
	400	800	78
	600	1,200	68
	800	1,600	63
greater than	800	greater than 1,600	60

2. Linear interpolation between tabulated percentage of live loads is permitted.
3. For live loads that exceed 100 pounds per square foot no reduction is permitted.
4. No reduction is allowed for areas to be occupied as places of public assembly, garages or parking facilities, one way slabs or joists.

(b) Permitted reductions in bearing walls, columns, piers and other members supporting more than one floor shall be based on the tributary area and influence area carried by the member.

1. For live loads of 100 pounds per square foot or less:

	Tributary Area	Influence Area	Percentage Of Live Load
less than	200	800	100

Tributary Area	Influence Area	Percentage Of Live Load
300	1,200	68
400	1,600	63
600	2,400	56
800	3,200	52
900 and greater	3,600 and greater	50

2. Linear interpolation between tabulated percentage of live loads is permitted.
3. No reduction is allowed for areas to be occupied as places of public assembly or for roofs. For garages and parking facilities see (4).
4. For live loads that exceed 100 pounds per square foot, and in garages and parking facilities for passenger vehicles only, members supporting more than one floor may be designed to carry not less than 80% of the live loads established in Section 68-2.2.

(c) Tributary Area/Influence Area. The influence area is defined as that floor area over which the influence surface for structural effects is significantly different from zero. For columns this is four times the traditional tributary area, while for flexural members it is two times. For an interior column, for instance, the influence area is the total area of the four surrounding bays, while for an interior girder it is the total area of the two contributing bays. Edge columns and girders have half the influence area of the respective interior members (two bays for columns, one for girders), while a corner column has an influence area of one bay. For unusual plan configurations, the concept of significant influence effect should be applied. For multiple floors, areas for members supporting more than one floor are summed.

68-3. Roof Loads.

Wind load, snow load and rain load are environmental loads. Live loads on a roof are those produced (1) during maintenance by workers, equipment and materials. Reductions in roof live loads and/or environmental roof loads shall not be permitted. Design roof loads shall be determined by the provisions of Sections 68-3.1 to 68-3.4 inclusive, 68-4, 68-5, 68-6.

68-3.1. Minimum Roof Live Loads.

Roofs shall be designed for a live load of 15 pounds per square foot on the horizontal projection or for other controlling combination of environmental loads.

68-3.2. Special-Purpose Roofs.

Roofs used for promenade purposes shall be designed for a minimum live load of 60 pounds per square foot. Roofs used for roof gardens or assembly purposes shall be designed for a minimum live load of 100 pounds per square foot. Roofs used for other special purposes shall be designed for appropriate loads, as directed or approved by the Commissioner of the Department of Inspectional Services.

68-3.3. Non-load Bearing Partitions And Suspended Ceilings.

Non-load bearing partitions and suspended ceilings shall not interfere with the deflection profile of the roof system.

68-3.4. Ponding Loads.

Roofs shall be designed to preclude instability from ponding loads.

68-3.5. Rain Loads.

Roofs having a pitch of less than thirty degrees shall be designed for an environmental rain load or snow load or live load considered to act on the horizontal projection of the roof surface for the appropriate roof drain head system with or without controlled flow as described in Section 82-64 of this code. Roofs having a pitch of thirty degrees or more shall be designed for snow or lateral pressures as required in Sections 68-3.6 and 68-4.

(a) For roof areas equipped with roof drain heads described in Section 82-64 of this code, the design load shall be twenty-five (25) pounds per square foot of roof area. Maximum ponding shall not exceed three (3) inches above the surface of the roof immediately adjacent to the roof drain head.

(b) For roof areas equipped with roof drains for controlled flow as described in Section 82-64.1 of this code, the design load shall be thirty-five (35) pounds per square foot of roof area. Maximum ponding shall be limited so that the overflow shall not exceed six (6) inches above the surface of the roof immediately adjacent to the roof drain head.

68-3.6. Snow Loads.

Roofs shall be designed for the controlling of environmental snow loads. Live load reductions do not apply to environmental loads.

(a) Flat-Roof Snow Loads.

The snow load p_f on an unobstructed flat roof shall be calculated as twenty-five (25) pounds-force per square foot. "Flat" as used herein refers not just to dead-level roofs but to any roof with a slope less than 1 in./ft. (5 degrees).

(b) Sloped-Roof Snow Loads, p_s .

All snow loads acting on a sloping surface shall be considered to act on the horizontal projection of that surface. The slope-roof snow load p_s shall be obtained by multiplying the flat-roof snow load p_f by the roof slope factor C_s :

$$p_s = C_s p_f \qquad \text{Equation 68-5.3}$$

Values of C_s for warm roofs and cold roofs are as follows:

Slope	C_s
less than 30°	1.00
less than 40°	0.75
less than 50°*	0.50
less than 60°	0.25
70° and greater	0.00

(c) Roof Slope Factor For Curved Roofs.

Portions of curved roofs having a slope exceeding 70 degrees shall be considered free from snow load. The point at which the slope exceeds 70 degrees shall be considered the "eave" for such roofs. For curved roofs, the roof slope factor C_s shall be determined by basing the slope on the vertical angle from the "eave" to the crown.

(d) Roof Slope Factor For Multiple Folded Plate, Sawtooth, And Barrel Vault Roofs Including Bowstring Trusses.

No reduction in snow load shall be applied because of slope (that is, $C_s = 1.0$ regardless of slope, and therefore $p_s = pf$).

(e) Unloaded Portions.

The effect of removing half the balanced snow load from any portion of the loaded area shall be considered. For unsymmetrical loading refer to ANSI A58-1-1982.

(f) Unbalanced Roof Snow Loads.

Winds from all directions shall be considered when establishing unbalanced loads. See ANSI A58.1-1982 for unbalanced snow load configurations.

(g) Drifts On Roofs.

Roofs shall be designed to sustain localized loads from snow drifts that can be expected to accumulate on them in the wind shadow of higher portions of the same structure. The surcharge load due to snow drifting shall be determined as provided for in Section 7.7 of ANSI A58.1-1982.

(h) Roof Projections.

A continuous projection longer than 15 feet may produce a significant drift on a roof. The loads caused by such drifts shall be considered to be distributed triangularly on all sides of the obstruction that are longer than 15 feet. The magnitude of drift surcharge loads and the width of the drift shall be determined by using the method developed for lower roofs in Section 68-3.6(g).

68-4. Lateral Loads.

Wind loads shall be determined by the provisions of Sections 68-4.1 and 68-4.2.

68-4.1. General Lateral Loads.

Provisions for the determination of wind loads on buildings and other structures shall be as follows:

(a) The provisions apply to the calculation of wind loads for main wind- force resisting systems and for individual structural components and cladding of buildings and other structures. Special investigations shall be required to determine wind loading for buildings or structures exceeding 600 feet in height, having irregular shapes, response characteristics or site locations with shielding or channeling effects that warrant special consideration, or for cases in which more accurate wind loading is desired.

(b) Wind load provisions of Section 68-4 are based on a basic wind speed of 75 miles per hour defined as the Annual Extreme Fastest-Mile Speed 10 Meters (33 feet) Above Ground. A 50 Year Recurrence Interval has been used in developing 68-4.2, Minimum Design Wind Pressures.

(c) Combined Stresses. For combined working stresses due to dead, live and wind loads, the allowable working stresses in material may be increased one-third, provided the section thus determined is at least as strong as that required for dead and live load alone except that this increase in stresses shall not be permitted for structures as given in Section 68-4.2.(f), Signs, Tanks, Towers and Chimneys.

(d) Overturning And Sliding.

Overturning. The overturning moment due to the wind load shall not exceed two-thirds of the moment of stability of the building or other structure due to the dead load only, unless the building or other structure is anchored so as to resist the excess overturning moment without exceeding the allowable stresses for materials used.

Sliding. When the total resisting force due to friction is insufficient to prevent sliding, the building or other structure shall be anchored to withstand the excess sliding force without exceeding the allowable stresses for the materials used. Anchors provided to resist overturning moment may also be considered as providing resistance to sliding.

(e) Anchorage. Adequate anchorage of the roof to walls and columns, and of walls and columns to the foundations to resist overturning, uplift and sliding shall be provided in all cases.

(f) Stresses During Erection. Refer to Chapter 76 -- Safeguards During Construction.

68-4.2. Minimum Wind Design Pressures -- Buildings And Portions Thereof And Other Structures.

(a) Buildings and Portions Thereof. All buildings, cladding and components shall be designed and constructed to resist a horizontal wind pressure on all surfaces exposed to the wind, allowing for wind in any direction, in accordance with Table 68-4.2. Other structures shall be designed and constructed to comply with the applicable provisions of 68-4.2. Reductions in wind pressure due to neighboring structures and terrain shall not be considered. The height is to be measured above the average level of the ground adjacent to the building or structure. Wind pressures shall vary linearly between pressures established in Table 68-4.2.

(b) Open signs -- Increase wind pressure established for solid signs by 1/3.

Signs in which the projected area exposed to wind consists of seventy per cent or more of the gross area as determined by the over-all dimensions shall be classed as solid signs; those in which the projected exposed area is derived from open letters, figures, strips and structural framing members, the aggregate total area of which is less than seventy per cent of the gross area so determined, shall be classed as open signs.

2. Tanks, Solid Towers and Chimneys -- Tanks, solid towers, chimneys and similar structures shall be designed and constructed to withstand pressures established in Table 68-4.2, Column (A) applied to the projected area multiplied by the following factors:

Tornados have not been considered in developing the basic wind-speed distributions of this code. For those structures or buildings for which design to resist tornadic winds are considered by the owner, the designer is referred to the references in the ANSI A58.1-1982 Appendix (A6.5) on tornado-resistant designs.

68-4.5. Earthquakes.

Special provisions for seismic design shall not apply. The basic wind design provisions for buildings, portions thereof, cladding and components and other structures shall apply.

68-5. Soil And Hydrostatic Pressure.

68-5.1. Pressure on Basement Walls.

In the design of basement walls and similar approximately vertical structures below grade, provision shall be made for the lateral pressure of adjacent soil. Due allowance shall be made for possible surcharge from fixed or moving loads. When a portion or the whole of the adjacent soil is below a free-water surface, computations shall be based on the weight of the soil diminished by buoyancy, plus full hydrostatic pressure.

68-5.2. Uplift On Floors.

In the design of basement floors and similar approximately horizontal construction below grade, the upward pressure of water, if any, shall be taken as the full hydrostatic head and shall be measured from the underside of the construction. Basement slabs reinforced or otherwise shall have a minimum thickness of four inches.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

UNITED STATES CONGRESS URGED TO ENACT "ACT FOR BETTER CHILD CARE".

The Committee on Education submitted the following report:

CHICAGO, May 10, 1989.

To the President and Members of the City Council:

Your Committee on Education, having had under consideration a resolution introduced by Alderman Orr (49th Ward) and Alderman O'Connor (40th Ward), which was referred on March 29, 1989, memorializing the Congress of the United States to enact the "Act for Better Child Care" at the earliest possible date in order to make quality, affordable child care services available to all Americans, heard testimony at a committee meeting on May 8, 1989, begs leave to recommend that Your Honorable Body Adopt said proposed resolution which is transmitted herewith.

This recommendation was concurred in by unanimous vote of the committee.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) PATRICK O'CONNOR,
Chairman.

On motion of Alderman O'Connor, the said proposed resolution transmitted with the foregoing committee report was Adopted by yeas and nays as follows:

Yeas -- Aldermen Roti, Rush, Tillman, T. Evans, Bloom, Steele, Beavers, Caldwell, Shaw, Vrdolyak, Huels, Fary, Madrzyk, Burke, Carter, Langford, Streeter, Kellam, Sheahan, Jones, J. Evans, Garcia, Krystyniak, Henry, Soliz, Gutierrez, Butler, Smith, Davis, Hagopian, Figueroa, Gabinski, Mell, Austin, Kotlarz, Banks, Giles, Laurino, O'Connor, Pucinski, Natarus, Eisendrath, Hansen, Levar, Shiller, Schulter, Orr, Stone -- 48.

Nays -- None.

Alderman Natarus moved to reconsider the foregoing vote. The motion was lost.

The following is said resolution as adopted:

WHEREAS, There exists a great need in the City of Chicago and across the United States for quality, affordable child care services; and

WHEREAS, Across the nation there is a severe shortage of child care facilities, programs and qualified staff, resulting in an inadequate range of child care options for families of all income levels; and

WHEREAS, Quality child care services are often unavailable or beyond the financial means of many single-parent households and low- and moderate-income families; and

WHEREAS, The lack of adequate child care services denies equal job opportunities to many parents, especially to women, and forces many of them to remain outside the work force, to interrupt their careers, or to limit themselves to low-wage, part-time, or temporary employment; and

WHEREAS, By limiting the participation of many Americans in the work force, the lack of adequate child care services hinders our nation's economic growth and productivity; and
